Alpacas offer exciting business opportunities.

Animals and stud services
Alpaca ownership and farming is rapidly gaining international popularity since the original exports from South America. Australian genetics are now highly sought after around the world.

Fibre and products
Whether you have 10 alpacas or 10,000 there is a range of options to sell your fibre or process your clip into tops, yarn, garments and homewares for local and international customers.

Meat and hides
The commercial farming of alpaca now includes the meat and hide industry providing the grower with additional income streams and improving the viability of the industry as a whole.
